

Annual Report of the Deep Creek and Mosby Irrigation System
Water year 1986

Charman Justice - Commisioner

Spring or Irrigation time was late. It was very cold, and snow stayed on the Mountain road till May 26th. April was cold and very little water was used. We had three frost in April and May that either froze or set the crops back.

Last of July and August the water got low. We drained the pond in mid August and water in the canal was down to 8sfw. for a short time. Then it started raining making it difficult to get the crops in.

Had trouble a couple of times keeping water to the bottom of the ditch. It takes about 24 hours for the water to stop running, and 72 hr. or longer to get it back on the bottom of the ditch: So when someone takes to much water futher up the ditch they get charged for three days use of it.

Simmon put in a different measuring weir and changed their diversion. Darvel Cook moved his weir closer to his headgate. This was a big help. Justice done a lot of work on their diversion.

I didn't keep a record of Mosby Water by the day. For the most part the stock holders had what water they could use and was above duty mostly.

I took no ditch loss as there was 259 shares in the system,,not being used. On a 30.00s.f.w. Duty it comes to 2.47 s.f.w.

On a 20.00s.f.w. Duty it comes to 1.66 s.f.w.

On a 10.00s.f.w. Duty it amounts to .83s.f.w.

When it drops to an 8s.f.w. it figure's 0.67 s.f.w. which means Deep Creek helped take the water to the bottom of the ditch. In Aug. on a 16 ft. reading at Juluis Pond, I was getting a 14.80 ft. reading at Mill Canyon. As near as I can figure it, I was loosing 3.50 s.f.w. from Juluis to Martin Huber's for a while in August. All in all it was a pretty fair water year.

One (star)* by name is no diverison, no delivery. Two (stars) is no diverison, but delivered some where else. A Question Mark is just that. Don't Know. This is why I need to know who is using whoes water and who to charge it to. I will not deliver water to someone else, other then their own without permission, either written or in person from the owner of the water. In writing is best, because then there is a record.

I change it to this for delivery
